Change now from spotty hot air heat to ARCOLA'S hot water warmth

RIGHT NOW, in the middle of winter, is the economical time to make the change. Your Heating Expert has much more time now than he will have later on.

And you need not hesitate because the days are cold. Your furnace or stoves can remain until ARCOLA is installed and at work.

The three cold months are coming

The months when chilly bed-rooms mean discomfort for adults and the danger of coughs and colds for the children. What a satisfaction to have an American Radiator in every room, sending out its healthful hot-water warmth.

What a delight in the morning to come down to a dining-room comfortably warm. What a comfort to have all the hot water you want for washing and bathing.

All these comforts come with ARCOLA, and the installation can be made in a very few days. Telephone your Heating Expert (he may be classified as "Plumber" or "Steamfitter"); ask him for an estimate.

Do it now—today—and enjoy ARCOLA'S friendly warmth through the three cold months that are still to come.

ARCOLA can be connected with the kitchen sink also, giving hot water for household use.

ARCOLA'S initial cost is surprisingly low and the cost comes back to you. Thousands of ARCOLA owners testify that ARCOLA pays for itself in the fuel it saves.

This is ARCOLA—hand some enough for the living room—but can be installed in kitchen or basement if you prefer.

TELLS OF FIGHT ON TUBERCULOSIS

the county medical societies. Dr. Winn Crispell and wife were living here then and they were very much interested. I attended with them a tuberculosis meeting in Albany at which many prominent people from all over the state spoke. This was in the winter of 1907. In 1908 the National Tuberculosis Association found that it was going to cost $10,000 at least to finance the international congress and they were troubled to know how they could do it. I believe congress made an appropriation finally, but they asked people to become members at $5 each. I was asked to become a member and to get others to join also which I did. I remember especially how helpful the late Rev. R. L. Burtell and several of the doctors of the city were.

Soon after the very successful congress in Washington Mrs. Clara N. Reed (one of our own club women who had suffered great loss through tuberculosis), came to me one Sunday afternoon and said Christmas Seals were being sold in some places and wondered if we could sell them. I said find out all about it. She did and when we knew that a Red Cross Chapter must be organized to do the selling, it only twelve members, we organized the Red Cross Chapter. Dr. Burtell attended the organization meeting and helped in every way as well as several of the doctors. Mrs. Reed was the first seal chairman and when it was over we found ourselves possessed of between six and seven hundred dollars for tuberculosis work. It was decided to start visiting nursing and Miss Anne O'Shea was our first visiting nurse. Both she and Dr. Burtell have gone to their eternal reward, but we who are left "to carry on" realize more and more the help they were.

In the spring of 1909 the state committee and state department of health sent their exhibit here and we learned that our county had the fifth highest death rate in the state from tuberculosis. A county committee was formed with Judge Joseph M. Fowler president and I was elected secretary. In July a tag-day was held. I was chairman and Mrs. Reed secretary and the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs worked hard. The result was a little over $4,000 for the work and we started a summer camp with tents and shacks. Dr. E. E. Norwood chairman. This was very successful from the first. In the fall the committee sent letters of appeal to friends and raised over three thousand more. The seal sale added to the fund and the supervisors appropriated six thousand dollars. The use of the site was donated by Mrs. James H. Everett and Mrs. Mrs. James Van Leuven and the present hospital of 22 beds was built. Dr. Mark O'Mara chairman. The supervisors have always nearly maintained the hospital, leaving the committee free to do educational and visiting nurse work. Every year since 1908 Christmas Seals to fight tuberculosis have been sold in this county. Different members of the Federation have always helped out for the last three years. The Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs as an organization has taken charge of the Seal sale in the city, leaving the tuberculosis committee to take charge of the county sale. I do not believe that you all realize what a perfectly splendid piece of work this is to do and so I want to go into detail. The Seal money (which you devote a few days to raising in the month in which we celebrate God's great gift to humanity) goes on working all the year. First—it pays a visiting nurse who goes all over the county and city. She drives the automobile purchased by the committee. She tries to get the very sick into the hospital when there is room and often there is not. She instructs them so that they know how to avoid spreading infection. Where there are children needing clothing, adults too, sometimes, it is supplied. Second—She tells them about the clinic. For the last three years the committee has maintained a free clinic with expert medical examiner once a month making twelve in the year, half in Kingston and half in the villages in the county.

I went into the clinic last Thursday in this city. People were waiting in the supervisors room with Mrs. O'Neil, public health nurse taking histories. I went on into the examining room where Dr. Stanley Wang, the examiner, was ready to begin work. On beyond are two more rooms, one where women remove clothing and put on the examining gown and one for men. Miss Elizabeth Brown, our tuberculosis nurse, was in charge here. This clinic lasted all day. In all 25 people were examined. Of this number 19 had never been there before and Dr. Wang discovered 8 were positive cases, 3 did not have it and 11 had suspicious symptoms. They were put under observation. Of the six who had been there before 2 were positive and 4 were observation cases.

Tuberculosis is one of the most curable of all diseases if discovered early and one of the least so if discovered later. The clinic is doing wonderful work in that it gives every one rich or poor a chance to have an expert opinion, so that they can know in the beginning if they have the disease. This goes on all the year as the result of your Seal Work.

As a result of the anti-tuberculosis work in the registration area of the United States, the death rate from tuberculosis has fallen about 25 per cent. In this country we are hampered by not having enough hospital beds. There is a waiting list nearly all the time, in 1920 there were 124 deaths in Ulster county from tuberculosis and only 22 hospital beds. So you can see we are not doing our duty in this respect. This Federation can do much by helping to create public opinion in favor of more. Our supervisors will cooperate if they feel sure that the public wants it. What can be done has been demonstrated at Framingham, Mass.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance gave the National Tuberculosis Association $100,000, to test out the best theories as to treatment. The national organization selected Framingham, Mass., a town of three or four thousand inhabitants. The health authorities gave them power to manage everything to suit themselves to see what could be done. The experiment has been going on nearly five years, which was the time limit. At the end of four years the death rate from tuberculosis was 50 per cent. lower than in the beginning. This shows conclusively, how lives can be saved, if it is possible to apply all the knowledge which we now have.

In closing I want to leave this thought of Sir Arthur Newsholme's, "The object of all anti-tuberculosis measures is to increase the resistance of mankind to infection and to reduce the amount and frequency of infection, to which mankind is exposed."

After Dr. Day's highly appreciated address, Miss Edith Holmes delighted all present with two vocal solos. Mrs. William S. Eltinge accompanying her at the piano. Miss Holmes sang "Love's Sorrow" by Shelley and "Slumber Boat" by Jessie Gaynor, and sang them both charmingly.

Then was shown the first of the two public health films, "Take No Chance." It was a realistic and well presented story of a family from whose midst the father had been taken away, a victim of tuberculosis. Following his death the tuberculosis visiting nurse offered the wise suggestion that the children, especially a young son and young woman, daughter visit the tuberculosis clinic to see if by any misfortune either had become infected during the father's illness. This they did, and it was found that both were suspicious if not positive cases, the young man being, perhaps, the worse off of the two. He decided to "Take No Chance," and went at once to a sanitarium, where the proper care and treatment—all pleasantly pictured on the screen—entirely cleared up the condition so that he was enabled to return to his work well and fit. The daughter was not as wise as her brother, a fact which the mother was left to grievously deplore.

Again a musical number that was particularly pleasing was a duet, a vocal solo, "My Axe of Steel," by C. A. Haven, to be sung by A. E. Newton of the high school faculty. Mr. Newton, who has a remarkably pleasing voice and musical ability, was accompanied by his daughter, Miss Newton, and in response to the continued applause sang, "Sweet Little Woman," by Floy Little Bartlett.

Before the close of the meeting, the entertaining committee and the musicians were given a rising vote of thanks for their services.

Wireless Aids Jewelers.

Fifteen hundred small wireless outfits have been installed in Paris jewelry, watch and clock stores to enable the jewelers to catch the correct Greenwich meridian time as it is sent daily at ten o'clock by the Eiffel tower. Formerly the exact time had to be obtained from the observatory by telephone.

The installation is simplicity itself. The outfit, about nine inches in diameter, is hung on a nail in the wall. A copper wire run down to the cellar or along a water or gas pipe serves as a "ground wire," while the removal of the bulb from a nearby electric light and the insertion of a contact plug take the place of antennae. It can be done in five minutes.

Goat's Milk.

According to the annual report of the California development board, the only goat milk condensery in the world is located at Pescadero, San Mateo county, California, where a herd of 6,000 milk goats is maintained by the Widemann goat milk laboratories. The demand for tinned milk for tuberculous patients is said to far exceed the supply, goat milk having been found a particularly valuable nutrient for consumptives. The number of milk goats in California has increased 50 per cent in the last two years. A large farm at Cool, Eldorado county, was recently stocked, and the production is to be used exclusively for the manufacture of goat milk cheese.

Frost's Purifying Qualities.

By its formation on trees and plants frost has an important beneficial effect, as its purifying quality is exercised on the air. Science tells us that the filtering of all the air that passes through foliage gathers the nitrogenous gases given off, which nitrogen, being returned again to the soil, acts as nutriment to vegetation. —S. K. Pearson Jr., Co-operative Observer, United States Weather Bureau, in New York Post.

In Appreciation.

We wish to try to show our appreciation of the many acts of kindness, shown by our good friends and neighbors during the illness and death of our dear mother, Mrs. Sarah A. Castle.

It will be impossible to thank one in particular, who has been with us since the first day of our trouble and who has been as near a mother to us, as anyone but our own dear mother could.

We also appreciate deeply the many floral tributes sent by our good friends, for as she loved flowers in life, we know she loved them in death.

Signed,
SON AND DAUGHTER.

MAKES RADIATORS HOT ALL OVER

THE Dunham Radiator Trap is one of the fundamentals of The Dunham Home Heating System. It is known the world over to heating engineers, as the device that revolutionized vacuum steam heating. The same reason which made the engineers of the Woolworth Building, the Impassioned Field Museum of Chicago, and of nationally famous hotels, municipal buildings, industrial plants and homes, from Maine to California, prefer Dunham Heating Service, are the logical reasons which will appeal to you.

Helped by Gude's Pepto-Mangan.

If he "crosses us a bear" when he comes home? Is he nervous and a little bit and always tired? You can help him back to health with Gude's Pepto-Mangan. He is run-down, and Pepto-Mangan, the wonderful blood tonic with the right kind of iron in it, will build him up. Help your husband get plenty of red blood and he will be well and good-natured again and stronger, too. Gude blood tonic—that is the way it goes. If you don't give him some kind of a tonic he will probably get worse—they usually do. Go to the drug store and ask for Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid or tablet form. It is pleasant to take and works wonders if taken daily for a few weeks.—Advertisement.

JAKE WAS SEVEN CENTS OUT

Satisfied If It Was All Right, But the Situation Did Not Exactly Please Him.

The neighbors said that Jake Newton was strictly honest but "pretty snug."

One morning as he was buying his sheep sheared he found that one of them was missing. "It must have jumped the fence and gone into Leslie's lot," he said to himself and immediately walked over to Leslie French's pasture, picked out a sheep that resembled him own and, after a tussle, got it home and had it sheared.

A few days later Jake discovered his missing sheep dead in his pasture. He lost no time in seeking his neighbor. With profuse apologies he returned the sheep and the fleece and explained the whole affair.

"Oh, that's all right, Jake," Leslie replied. "Don't let it trouble you a bit."

"You're sure it's all right?" Jake asked anxiously.

"Sure, sure, Jake. Anyone is likely to make a mistake."

Jake drew himself up. "Well, it ought to be all right. I had to pay seven cents to have that sheep sheared."—Youth's Companion.

Artist Works With Wood.

In the Vogues mountains there lives an artist named Spindler, who produces the most entrancing compositions not in paint, but in wood alone. First he makes the sketch, and then with infinite patience and care he cuts the veneer and glues it to a backing and then welds it all in a press. Since Mr. Spindler never uses anything except wood in its natural color, he has to know a great deal about trees. In his workroom he has pieces of every kind of wood found in Europe and many pieces from other countries. He pictures clouds, rain, and everything that an artist can picture with paint. Some of his veneer takes him hours of study and fitting, and some of it is as fine as a hair. Mr. Spindler has wood of every shade of yellow, red, brown, black and white. He has almost all the shades of green also, but he finds the blues hard to get.—Columbus Dispatch.

Colleges Take "Washer Boys."

The large laundries are beginning to revise their price lists in keeping with the return to "normalcy," says the New York Sun, but this doesn't apply to Mr. John Chinaman's laundry. He admits he is getting cheaper soap and cheaper starch, but he insists China boys to do the work are scarcer and higher than ever. Many of the Chinese youths are going to universities and absorbing some of the finer occidental arts, and turn up their noses at pushing a gas iron in a laundry. It's only the old Chinese that will wash clothes, and they work slowly.

So, says Lee Sing, until things get a little more normal and the younger Chinese drop some of their higher educational ideas, he can't see how a laundry ticket can be exchanged for less money.

THRIFT

True Thrift simply means using your talents and power in a sensible way so as to derive as much happiness and satisfaction out of them and to do as much good as your efforts deserve.

The happiness that results from this kind of Thrift can be realized by anyone.

It is only necessary to conserve your wealth by systematic economy and then invest your accumulations wisely. This is the road that leads to financial independence.

Your Gas and Electric Company 7 per cent ten-year, guaranteed bonds afford you an excellent opportunity for practicing Thrift.

They may be had in 1,000, 500 and 100 dollar lots and can be secured for cash or by a one-twentieth payment down and the balance in monthly payments of like amounts, spread over the next nineteen months.

Every dollar you pay in under this plan earns 7 per cent interest for you from the time you deposit it.

Let us know that you are interested in this Thrift Investment plan and we will give you full details.

In commenting on his surrender of the lease of a five-story residential property near Times Square, New York city, to The Active Republican Club, "Honest John" Kelly, famous as a gambling house proprietor, is quoted as saying: "The place has been unoccupied for four years now, except for the occasional meetings of a small poker club. The police have been allowed to come in and out at will and watch this game. It has been a small affair, $5 or $10 limit. The kitty was supposed to pay expenses and that was all."

In order to prevent gambling, at least one policeman has been stationed in front of the property twenty-four hours a day for four years. All good people who are opposed to gambling applaud the vigilance of the police. But what does Kelly's statement mean? Are there no laws against gambling?

The Penal Law of New York describes as a "common gambler" a person "who engages as a dealer, game-keeper or player in any gambling or banking game, where money or property is dependent upon the result." The Court of Appeals holds this to apply to persons who make a business of gambling, and says that "a person who merely takes part in a game of poker precisely upon the same terms as the other participants in the game, for mere amusement or recreation and not as a professional gambler, does not thereby become a common gambler under our statute."

So it appears that the persons who hang to lower the shades in their homes or their rooms in a hotel when a poker game starts in order to escape discovery as law-breakers take their trouble for nothing. They may be perplexed over another section of the Penal Law which says that "It is unlawful to keep or use any table, cards, dice or any other article or apparatus whatever, commonly used or intended to be used in playing any game of cards or faro, or other games of chance, upon which money is usually wagered, at any of the following places": (enumerating numerous places, including vessels navigating the waters of this state). However, the best thing to remove perplexity is to read more of the Penal Law.

Whereupon, the perplexed public can learn promptly from the Penal Law that "All wagers, bets or stakes made to depend upon any race, or upon any gaming by lot or chance, or upon any lot, chance, casualty, or unknown or contingent event whatever, shall be unlawful." Perplexity is removed partly on learning of the decision that where one person bet with another that a third person then had in his possession the lease of certain premises, and each bettor deposited the amount of his bet with a fourth person, the bet to be determined within five days, the transaction constituted an act of gambling which is forbidden by the Constitution and the statute.

Perplexity is not modified when it is learned from the Penal Law that "A person who wins or loses at play or by betting, at any time, the sum of value of twenty-five dollars or upwards, within the space of 24 hours, is punishable by a fine of not less than five times the value or sum so lost or won, to be recovered in a civil action, by the persons charged with the support of the poor in the place where the offense was committed, for the benefit of the poor."

Thus it appears that it is safe to play poker or otherwise take a chance, except as indicated, up to the amount of $24.99 in any one day. Up to that time the pastime is innocent pleasure: winning or losing one cent more than $24.99 turns the pastime into a crime for which a penalty may be collected. There is an adage that "Anybody can afford to lose one cent," but there are times when it is dangerous to win that amount; to win one cent makes a man a criminal.

Within the past few months there has been much talk about the disappearance of law, especially Prohibition laws. When asked if Prohibition has anything to do with the present crime wave, Governor Miller on Thursday said: "Undoubtedly, I wouldn't say it was one of the chief causes by any means, but of course the disappearance of law that it has bred, greatest among people who need the protection of the law the most, has undoubtedly had a bad effect, and I suppose the war had something to do with it."

Up to the time that any beverage contains not to exceed one-half of one per cent alcohol, it is innocent and harmless; beyond that percentage of alcohol the beverage becomes dangerous and illegal and makes men criminals. Up to one-half of one per cent men may enjoy the alcoholic content of beverages without fear of the law. Up to $24.99 they may enjoy winning or losing "at play or by betting" without fear of a lawsuit. Who needs the protection of the law the most?

If laws are not respected, is it because they are not respectable laws? Or does the fact that they are laws give them respectability and command respect? The present legislature is being urged to protect people further—by law. It is law which defines crime and thereby establishes the violator as a criminal. Are we about to establish fresh grades of one-half of one per cent criminality of the $24.99 variety?

The legislature has the power to answer.

Answers to Previous Questions.
1. Does any creature besides a bird have a gizzard?
Yes, crocodiles do, using it to crush or grind large lumps of food. Like birds, also, they take in pieces of sharp edged stone to help in the process of reducing food to a more easily digested mass.

2. In what part of America is the wolverine found?
It lives as far north as the Arctic Ocean, and south to the northeastern border of the states. Before New York and New England were settled, the wolverine came to that district. In the western U. S. it is still reported in high mountainous regions, almost to New Mexico. It has been described as the most destructive and worst-hated animal in North America.

3. What is the yellow butterfly, wingspread about 2½ inches, seen constantly flying across Mississippi from August first?
Probably the Orange-sulphur, Eurytoma eurytoma. Similar to the common clouded-sulphur, but has a wider range. Is known as far west and north as the mountains of Colorado, where it begins living in June. In Texas it begins flying in November, and flies all winter, ceasing in June. The fact of its having a number of broods accounts for the constant supply. In some localities it hibernates.

FILLS A NEED.
Trust Company More Permanent Than Executor or Administrator.
"Safeguarding Your Family's Future," is the title of an interesting booklet which can be had free of the Kingston Trust Company.

In February, one hundred years ago, the first trust company came into being. Before that when a man made his will, he would name a relative, or a friend, or a business associate, to carry out his wishes. The method had serious defects. The individual may die before a will becomes effective, or in the most critical period of the settlement of an estate, or he became incapacitated, or prove untrue to his trust and lacking in financial responsibility.

The trust company for a system of trusteeship that would be above these limitations—one that would have the qualifications that the individual lacked. It had its birth in America, and here it has reached its greatest development. Today there are more than 2,300 trust companies in the United States, with banking resources exceeding twelve billion dollars, and administering estates aggregating in value many billions of dollars. The man who is making a will today can name a trust company as his executor and trustee, assuring sound and responsible management of his estate and protection to his beneficiaries.

ON-A-JOB, OFF-A-JOB JIM!
Being a Story
Of how Jim got on a job and why he got off it again.

That night the thermometer sank lower and lower until the mercury reached zero and below; until people stopped looking, and shook their heads as they exclaimed, "The coldest night we've had for years."

With the sudden cold spell, came plumbing troubles. Jim figured on that and hung around the nearest plumber's shop the next day, looking for a job. In spite of the unusual demand for plumbers, he was not wanted, because he was not a union man or because he had no license. Even though he insisted that he could thaw out a pipe as well as the next man, solder small breaks and even make simple joinings, they could not use him.

But Jim had grown used to rebuffs in his year of looking for jobs, and he was keen enough to make a job for himself. His opportunity came when Fenno's son had visits to his truck, ready for his round of visits to impatient customers. Old man Fenno dashed to the door of his shop to deliver his departure. "Say Henry, call at Mrs. Delevant's, 63 Sycamore avenue, will you? She's called up four times to say she's all frozen up? Call—"

"I haven't time for any more. There's enough work already to keep me on the move all night. Tell her she's not the only one with frozen pipes. She'll wait her turn."

Jim's mind was already made up, before the truck had turned the corner. At the hardware store he bought a soldering outfit and headed for Mrs. Delevant's. As luck would have it, he was well acquainted with the woman, and knew she would welcome his arrival with open arms.

"Well, of all strangers!" she exclaimed as Jim walked in. "Times frozen? Well, I should say they were, and that villain Fenno had the nerve to tell me that he would do nothing to relieve us till tomorrow. What? Are you working for the brute?"

"I am in business for myself, and I heard your pipes were frozen. For old time's sake, I've put you first on my list. Now lead me to them."

It was a simple case of thawing out after all, only the woman had been afraid of trying any methods herself. Her husband was away, so she was more than helpless. As the cuckoo clock cooed its last call of twelve, Jim turned on the faucet and had the pleasure of hearing the throb of the water rushing through cleared pipes.

"I wish you had time to go my friend, Mrs. Shaw."

Jim speedily consented. He was only too glad to obtain more work, and he presented himself at the Shaw house immediately after lunch. The job was a harder one than he had anticipated, but he finished after dark, with the names of several other friends in like predicament.

The next morning he continued his task and was congratulating himself when a policeman, accompanied by Mrs. Shaw accosted him. "This is the man who stole my silver tea set. I wanted to use it for luncheon and it had disappeared."

"Why do you accuse me, Mrs. Shaw?" queried Jim.

"Because you were the only stranger in my house yesterday."

"And you missed your tea set at lunch? Thank goodness I have an alibi in a cuckoo clock. Ask Mrs. Delevant when I left her house. Officer, you will have to let me go."

NOT AS BAD AS IT SOUNDED
Women Was Unduly Alarmed at Gruesome Story Which She Overheard in the Street Car.

A Columbus woman in a trip on an interurban car recently sat behind two women who were holding an animated conversation, the Indianapolis News relates. She paid no attention to the talk until a part of a sentence reached her ear, through the noise of the car—"In an awful fix, with both legs disjointed." The woman was impressed with this tale of suffering and while she was considering it another bit of the conversation was wafted to her ears over the roar of the wheels—"and one foot nearly off."

This was positively distressing, and the woman moved uneasily in her seat, stretching both feet to assure herself they were in proper condition. Buzz, buzz, went the voices, and then—"a hand all mangled." By this time the woman was having horrified visions of a mangled body. "A wreck," she said to herself, and to add to her horror the train made a sudden terrible jolt which sent her heart to her mouth, figuratively speaking. A smooth place in the road enabled her to hear the last of the gruesome tale: "It would cost as much to send it to a doll hospital as it would to get a new one, so I'm just going to buy her a new one."

English Food Importations.
A large part of the north of England is a busy hive of industry, containing such manufacturing centers as Nottingham, Sheffield, Leeds, Bradford, Manchester, and many other places where large populations are concentrated. The north country calls for great importations of food stuffs, the bulk of which comes from this side of the Atlantic and is landed at Liverpool or carried on to Manchester by the ship canal. One of these imports is flour, of which in 1919 there were landed at Liverpool 689,000 sacks, and at Manchester 419,000 sacks, making a total of 1,088,000 sacks. The flour is contained in bags of 140 pounds weight each, and two bags make what is known as a sack, which is, therefore, equal to 280 pounds. The imports at Liverpool and Manchester, were, therefore, equal to 304,640,000 pounds.

ANNUAL STRIKE OF ICE WORKERS

Glenco Italians Employed Filling High Hook House: Wanted $4 Day—Work Resumed Today at Old Wage Scale—State Troopers on Guard—Good Ice Weather.

After the thawing weather of Saturday and Sunday the thermometer began to drop after supper Sunday evening, and during the night the zero mark was reached. This morning at 7 o'clock thermometers along the Strand registered 10 degrees above zero. The cold spell tightened up the ice, and ice harvesting was resumed along the Rondout creek and Hudson river.

The annual strike of ice workers occurred Friday at High Hook, where a number of Italians residing at Glenco struck for a $4 day. The Knickerbocker Ice Company refused to increase the wage scale, which is $3 to $3.50, depending on the class of work, and the Italians struck. No work was done at the High Hook house Saturday, but work was resumed this morning.

Superintendent Fred J. Baker, of this district, said that he expected a detail of state troopers at the High Hook house to maintain order and allow those who desired to work for the old wage scale to do so. This was the first strike of the season in this territory.

This morning the Knickerbocker Ice Company resumed work at the Rondout creek house at South Rondout, the East Kingston house, the Flatbush house and the High Hook house. The Flatbush house is the largest, with a capacity of 43,000 tons. The other three houses will hold about 18,000 tons each.

Wednesday, weather conditions permitting, the company will start the work of filling the house at Turkey Point, which holds 24,000 tons when filled, and the Esopus house, which holds 33,000 tons when filled.

So far the Knickerbocker Ice Company has harvested 15,000 tons. It will probably fill all the houses to capacity if weather conditions permit.

To sharpen tools many people have to turn the grindstone without assistance, using the foot on a treadle. This gives a jerky movement to the stone that is destructive to good work in putting an edge upon an ax or chisel. One needs a fly-wheel, and this can be found in a good stone of cement, and mounted

MILKING THREE TIMES DAILY

Additional Amount of Milk and Butterfat May Hardly Pay the Extra Expense.

Cows milked and fed three times daily will produce more milk and the average test will be higher than though they were milked only twice. The rule is that milking three times daily is advisable where records are being made, or where cows are milking so largely that it is burdensome for them to carry their milk-making nutriment for periods of twelve hours each. Under practical conditions the question of time is the determining factor. It costs more to milk three times daily than only twice and if extra help must be hired the additional amount of milk may hardly pay the extra expense.

One-two-three! One cow-testing association in Washington, two in Colorado, and three in Idaho have reached the mark of 100 per cent of their herds headed by purebred bulls. This was the count in the spring of 1921 in the territory of the western office of the dairy division of the United States Department of Agriculture. In the fall of this year one-third of the associations in the western states were 100 per cent in their use of purebred bulls. In some localities it is coming to be considered a disgrace for anyone to use a scrub bull.

STILL HOLD ANCIENT COURT

Judicial Tribunal Established Seven Hundred Years Ago in England
Never Abolished.

Among the courts of ancient origin in Great Britain is a most interesting one still active at Bristol, the last one remaining of the Five Feudal courts which were established more than 700 years ago at places where large fairs were held, holding every often for more than a fortnight, and attended by foreigners. The courts were provided, especially if the fair was at a seaport town, to deal with differences of opinion which were likely to arise between people who could not understand each other's speech. The stranger, in such a case, would find himself in a sorry plight.

Courts were therefore established so that complaints from those who were staying in the city for the fair or passing through without making any long stay, could be dealt with, and were called Courts of Five Feudals or Dooty Feet from the duty feet of the traveling bagmen and peddlers whom it was intended to help. In time Five Feudals became Five Feuders, and under that name was held once again in Bristol this autumn for a fortnight. The Recorder presided. The court was opened in accordance with ancient custom in the market place which adjoins the Guildhall for convenience. Although the number of complaints were few the court remained sitting for the full 14 days as it had done century after century. Whether the dusty feet can turn of those who feel they have a grievance, sure that attention will be given to their plight.

Under the protecting care of the bureau of biological survey, United States Department of Agriculture, big game on government reservations has multiplied fast. The animal census shows 608 buffalo on such reservations now, as compared with 207 five years ago; 604 elk, as compared with 189; 92 antelope, as compared with 40, and so on.

Care of the birds progressed materially during the year through poisoning and defining boundaries of many of the bird refuges, the planting of grain to provide food and cover, establishment of new reservations, provision of additional warden service at certain reservations, and increased number of patrol boats.

Its administration of the migratory bird treaty act which prohibits the shooting of migratory birds on their flight north in the spring, and contains restrictions as to the manner in which they may be hunted during the open seasons and of the Lacey act, which regulates interstate shipments of wild animals and game, resulted in the apprehension of nearly 1,000 alleged violators of the federal game laws and the securing of more than 500 convictions in which fines were assessed ranging from $1 to $500 each.

No Hero to His Housekeeper.

What will Josephine say to the award of the Nobel prize for literature to M. Anatole France? Josephine during many years was housekeeper to the great novelist and kept his home in such a perfection of comfort—serving, indeed, as the model for the ideal Therese of "Le Crime de Sylvestre Bonnard"—that there was much grief in two hearts when infirmity made it necessary some few years ago for her to be superannuated. But though she cared so diligently for his bodily needs the old woman would never admit any very high opinion of her master's intellect. "Is the master in?" once inquired a very distinguished visitor. "The master," grunted Josephine contemptuously, "why do you call him the master? He is master of nothing but his food, and even that he can only master when he has it in his mouth."—Manchester Guardian.

Stanoh Ocean Veteran.

Ask any veteran inhabitant of Dockside, in London, if he remembers the Cutty Sark, and it is likely that his eye will glisten as he answers. "Yes." Tell him she may be seen in the Surrey commercial docks, and he will be hard of belief. Yet so it is. The Cutty Sark was once a famous tea clipper which, on one famous occasion did 192 knots in 22 hours. Steam power drove her off the China route and now she sails the sea under the name of Ferreira, flying the Portuguese flag. For years her wooden walls have withstood the buffeting of the ocean, and it would appear as though she might outlast many an iron vessel driven by steam.—Scientific American.

Art.

The pick of recent Japanese paintings are exhibited in New York. Of serve the subjects: "A Prairie Fire," "Bonnie in the Buddhist Hall," "Wassel," "A Shinto Shrine" and "Yellow Bird on a Blossoming Tree."

These subjects reveal that Japanese imagination has a tremendous scope. Hence Japs are quick to sense the possibilities of a thing, as shown by their aggressive diplomacy.

But imagination is not all. Japan, within a few generations, will be eclipsed by the plodding Chinese giant, who imagines nothing except facts. That's what made our west—keeping its feet on the ground.

MILK PRICES FOR FEBRUARY

League Bids for $2.985 Per Cwt.—
Pooled Returns For December
Were Far Ahead of Unorganized
Producers—Warren Formula Agreed Upon.

The directors and county presidents of the Dairymen's League, meeting in New York city on January 18, agreed upon prices at which league milk will be sold for the month of February.

The price for class one milk, that is milk used in fluid form, for February is $2.985. For class two, milk used chiefly in the manufacture of cream and ice cream and cheese of the soft type, the price for February is $1.70. These prices are for milk testing three per cent butterfat, in the 201-210 mile zone. The price for class three milk, milk used chiefly in the manufacture of evaporated and condensed milk and cheese of the hard type, is determined on the market quotations on butter plus twenty-five cents per hundred pounds. The price for class four milk, which is used in the manufacture of butter and American cheese, is determined as usual by current market quotations on those commodities.

The most important business transaction by the directors was the agreement between the league and the New York Milk Conference board to determine in the future the price of fluid milk on the Warren Formula, a plan devised by Dr. George F. Warren of the New York State College of Agriculture, which insures the farmer the cost of production plus a reasonable profit.

Dairymen in the Cooperative Association will receive from the association on January 25 their checks for December milk. The pooled price after expenses of advertising and administration were deducted is $2.49. This is for three per cent milk in the 201-210 mile zone. The prices received by organized dairymen for the month of December in sixteen other dairy sections averaged only $1.85 for the same quality milk the same distance from the market. In other words, dairymen in the Cooperative Association received for their December milk 54 cents a hundred pounds more than the average received by the organized producers elsewhere.

TRUST companies are recognized as the ideal managers of estates.

They are permanent, stable, safe. They will be functioning in 2022 as they are today, and as they have been since 1822—because of the fundamental soundness and advantages of the trust company idea.

The man who appoints a trust company as the executor and trustee of his will is assured that his appointee will be prepared to act when called upon, and to continue to serve, whatever may be the term of trusteeship.

Stelles' Great Inventory Sale

With the exception of Cantilever and Heywood Shoes, Rubber Footwear and Findings, every article in our immense stock of Footwear for all ages is now being sold at a big discount.

We did not have as large a crowd as usual at the opening day of the Sale, due no doubt, to the unpleasant weather, but everyone who did attend was very much pleased with the money-saving bargains they received.

No doubt this week will bring a large number of people to our store seeking Quality Footwear at Reduced Prices, and our stock is so large that they are sure to find just the kinds and sizes they desire at big money-saving prices.

Sale Prices are $1.00 for values from $1.50 to $5.00, $1.50 for values $2.00 to $3.50, $3.00 for Men's and Boys' values from $4.00 to $7.00, $3.98 Ladies' values from $6.50 to $12.50, $5.00 Men's values from $7.50 to $11.00, $7.00 for Men's values $9 to $11.00, and all other Footwear except above exceptions at 10% off.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BY MARY GRAHAM BONNER

THE NEW CAVE

There were three of them and they were the best of friends. Their names were Bobby and Billy and Jack. In the winter time after school was out they always played together. They always went together to look for chestnuts in the fall and they always made their Jack o' Lanterns as near alike as possible and all went together when it was time for the Jack o' Lanterns to go glowing. In fact if any one saw them alone the question would always be asked, "Where are the other two?"

It was very early in the spring on a Saturday afternoon that Bobby and Billy and Jack started forth on a walk. They were very fond of walking and loved to start out on a cross-country walk. They would aim to go in a certain direction and they would go in that direction, no matter how many fences they had to cross nor how many brooks. In fact they enjoyed crossing brooks. There were always a great many adventures to be had on a cross-country walk. They saw so many sights and they explored and found so much that was interesting.

But on this spring afternoon they went in the direction of a cave—an old, old friend of theirs. How many times they had visited this cave. It was high on the side of a hill. An echo from it could be always heard if one stood at the foot of the hill and shouted up.

It was always an adventure to climb a mountain side which was just outside the village and then go over the top of the mountain, through the dense woods, and try to strike the cave from above. It was so hard to hit it exactly right. Sometimes they came out a little to the right of it and sometimes a little to the left. But this day they came down over the side of the mountain and they could not find the cave at all. "The woods must have changed their looks during the winter," Billy said.

"Or we have lost our bumps of locality," said Bobby. Bobby had always said that the best thing in the world to have was a bump of locality. He meant by that it was so fine a thing to be able to find one's way about, by instinct, as it were.

"I see some rocks," said Jack. "This looks as though we were somewhere near the cave."

"But they aren't the same rocks," said Billy.

"That's so," said Bobby. "In fact, I've never seen these rocks before. See! There's a long ridge of them."

They Had to Crawl.

there. Why, I do believe we've discovered a new part around here we somehow never struck before." They wandered about, when suddenly they stopped walking. There, right before them, in the woods beyond the ridge of rocks, was a cave they had never seen before—and they thought they knew every bit of the land about.

"A new cave!" they all shouted at once. And then they bent their thoughts upon what they might discover. To be sure it was a new cave—and not so far from the old familiar one. It had been missed because they had never thought of looking near the old cave for still another one.

They had to crawl into this on their hands and knees and then when they got inside a little distance they could sit up quite straight. "Do you suppose," Jack said, "that we have really discovered this cave?"

"Oh, it can't be," said Billy. "Somehow we've just happened never to have heard of it."

"Wanting it to be great if we had discovered it!" Bobby exclaimed. And when they found arrow heads they felt almost sure that they had discovered the cave and yet they dared not hope for so much.

They went home late that afternoon and each promised the other not to feel disappointed if their discovery turned out to be merely a re-discovery of what someone else had discovered.

But when they told about finding the new cave people laughed and said they were making up adventure stories—until the next afternoon a great many went in quest of the new cave.

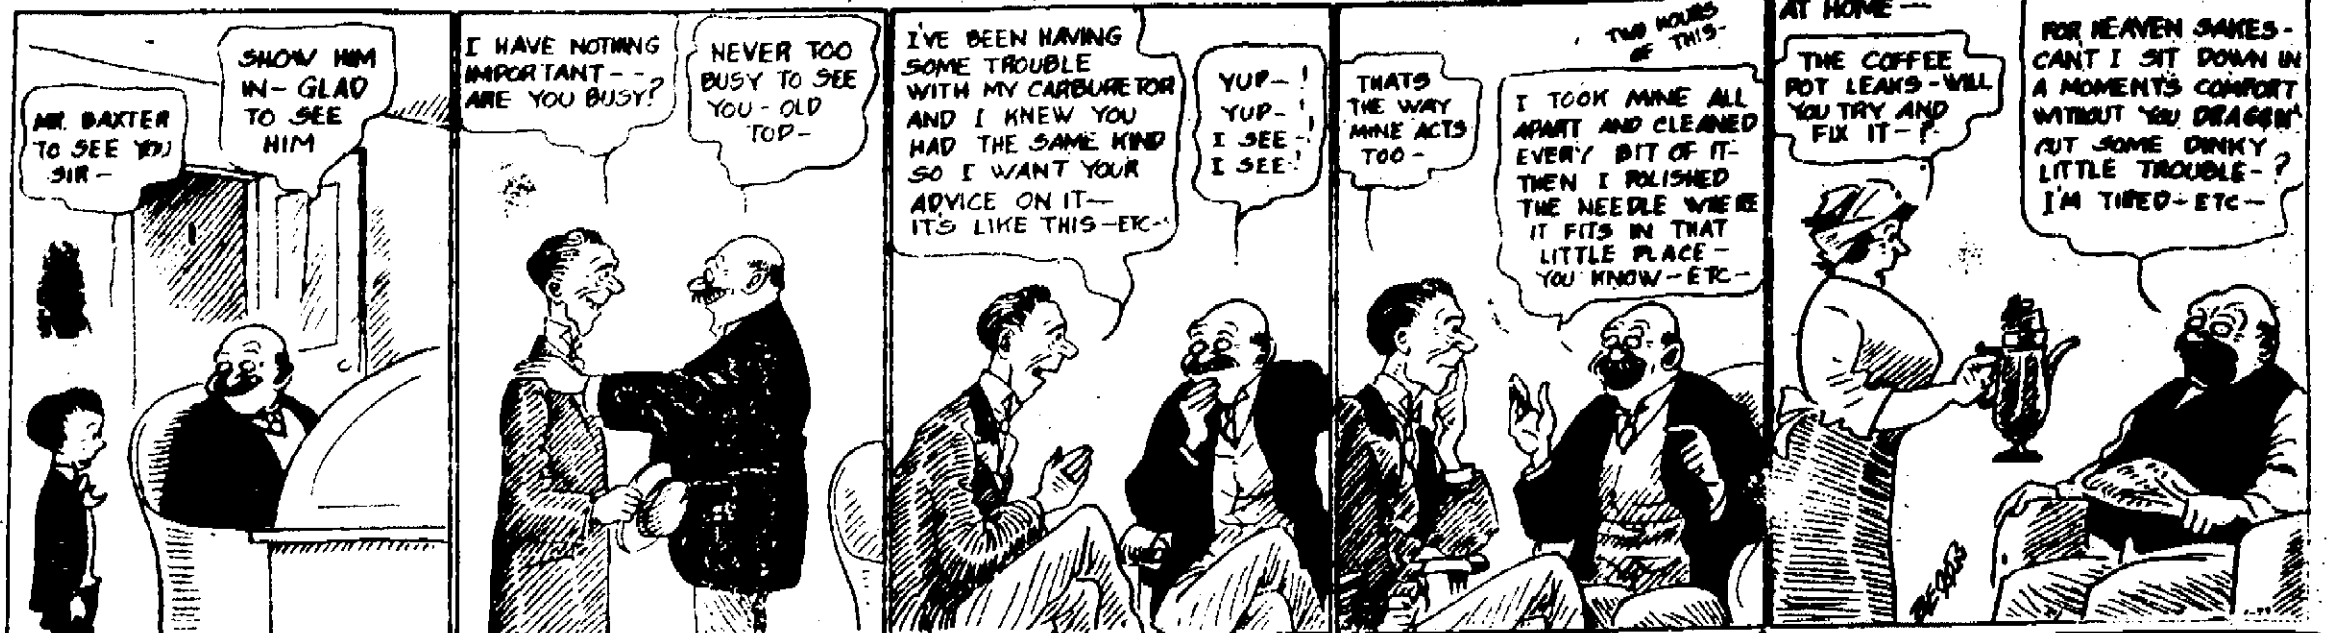

Yes, Billy and Bobby and Jack had made a discovery and in a part of the country where everyone thought there was nothing new to discover. The cave was named the Cave of the Three Unknowns. But even more wonderful to the boys than that honor was the fact that they were without a doubt the first white people to have visited that old Indian home!

WHOLESALE HOME-MADE CANDY

Fudges are one of the easiest of candies to be made, are very popular and contain a good deal of nutriment when milk, butter, chocolate and nuts are used.

Maple Sugar Fudge.—Take two cupsful of maple sugar, one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of butter, boil to the soft ball stage when tested in cold water. Add one cupful of buttermilk and when cool beat until thick and creamy. Pour into a well-buttered pan and mark off into squares.

Honey Put.—Cook three cupsful of sugar and one cupful of cream without stirring, until the threading stage is reached; add one-quarter of a cupful of honey. When the sirup makes a soft ball on being dropped into cold water take from the fire and pour over the well-beaten white of an egg. Add one cupful of chopped nuts. When firm and creamy, shape into balls.

Pineapple Fudge.—Roll two cupsful of sugar, one-half cupful of water and one-fourth teaspoonful of cream of tartar to the soft ball stage, then add one cupful of candied pineapple (or preserved will do) finely chopped; add a teaspoonful of orange flavoring. Pour over the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs and beat until light and foamy. Pour into a buttered pan and cut into squares when cold.

Cinnamon Fudge.—Roll together to the soft ball stage two cupsful of sugar, one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of butter. Remove from the fire and add one-half cupful of dates chopped, two tablespoonfuls of cinnamon and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Cool, then beat until creamy. Pour into buttered pan and mark off into squares when cold.

Marshmallow Fudge.—Roll together two cupsful of light brown sugar, one tablespoonful of butter, one cupful of milk, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of cream of tartar. Test for the soft ball stage, then add one-half pound of marshmallows. Let stand covered for a few minutes, beat until dissolved, add one cupful of nutmeats, beat until cool, then pour into pans and mark off into squares.

4,000,000 PEOPLE

Annually use organic Nuxated Iron to build up red blood, strength and endurance.

There are thousands of people who are ailing and breaking down at a time of life when they should be enjoying that perfect health which carries defiance to disease simply because they are not awake to the condition of their blood. Without organic iron your blood carries no oxygen, and without oxygen there is nothing to unite with the carbon in your food so what you eat does you no good. It is like putting coal into a stove without fire. You can now obtain organic iron, like the iron in your blood, and like the iron in spinach, lettuce, and apples from any drugist under the name of Nuxated Iron. Nuxated Iron also contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force; it is, therefore, a new blood and nerve food. It helps create and build new and stronger red blood cells. It feeds the body the substances which nerve force must have to give it that vital, electric, magnetic power which is stored in the nerve and brain cells of men. Nuxated Iron also increases the strength and endurance of weak, nervous, rundown men and women in two weeks time. The manufacturers guarantee successful results to every purchaser or they will refund your money.

MOVE FOR LIBRARY AT PORT EWEN

For some time past there has been under consideration the matter of starting a free library and reading room in Port Ewen and with this in view, a meeting of some of those interested was called last Friday by Miss Herbert, librarian of the Kingston Public Library. Miss Herbert had secured Miss Norris of the state department to present the matter and explain to what extent the state would assist.

In order to launch the movement a library organization was effected as follows: President, Mrs. E. W. Hathaway; vice president, Mrs. Charles Zimmerman; secretary, Miss Rose Lammiman; treasurer, Mrs. S. S. Van Aken. A committee was chosen to canvass for funds to carry on the project.

The possession of a public library by a community is always a matter of civic pride and evidence of a higher standard of living and thinking. There can be no question of the need of such an institution in a village the size of Port Ewen. It is a cause which should compel the interest of many who will not profit by it directly and contributions are solicited. Checks may be sent to any of the officers.

Harry S. New

Senator Harry S. New, from Indiana, who is being considered as a successor to Will Hays as postmaster general.

Draining the Zuyder Zee.

At the inland shipping congress held at Rotterdam recently the drainage of the Zuyder Zee formed the most important subject of discussion. It was pointed out that the drainage would make necessary the construction of a number of new canals. One speaker pleaded that the building of new villages and factories of the polders should not be left to mere chance. Villages with churches should be built near the canals, but industrial works near the dykes. Such an arrangement would prove of advantage to shipping and would prevent any pollution of the polder water. A number of the waterways connecting the Zuyder Zee ports are to be preserved, but wherever polders form a continuation of the existing land, new harbors will have to be made.—Scientific American.

Too Much to Ask?

It is suggested by a public speaker that the voter should know the candidate; should know the duties of the office and should know whether the candidate is fitted for those duties. However we must not ask too much of many voters or they will be losing all of their interest in our elections.—Detroit News.

This is the original of all February Furniture sales, and the only one that lives up to its original and present ideal.

It is the sale that thousands wait for. It is the sale that is world-wide in its scope.

Furniture from these sales have gone into nearly all the States of the Union, and into eight foreign countries—reaching from South America to Japan, to China, to the Continent of Europe, to Great Britain and to Ireland.

No sale could have expanded in such an ever-widening circle of service and helpfulness unless it was first and above all a sale of tremendous advantage to people nearer home.

This year the sale offers more than a million dollars of home furniture at these great reductions in price.

Origin of Term "By-Law."
By is an old English word signifying town, burg or borough. It is still retained in many names of places, as Grimsby, Derby, Whitby, all of which towns were renamed by the Danes. The term by-law is therefore "the law of the by or town."—Edward's "Words, Facts, and Phrases."

Simple, and to the Point. Breathlessly he rushed into the lawyer's office. "My next-door neighbor is learning to play the cornet," he exclaimed. "The man is a public nuisance. What would you advise me to do?" "Learn to play the saxophone," advised the astute lawyer. "Ten dollars, please."

THIS "JOKE" HAD SERIOUS ENDING

Joseph Gill of No. 67 Ann street is in the Kingston City Hospital in serious condition as the result of a "practical joke" played on him while at work on the ice in New Jersey by some of his fellow workmen. The outcome of the "joke" was so serious that Mr. Gill was forced to return to his home here and was removed to the Kingston City Hospital, where on Saturday night the physicians performed a serious operation. Mr. Gill is a man of middle age of Polish nationality. He is the father of a large family.

K. H. S. GIRLS WIN GAME AT MIDDLETOWN

Now Have Four Victories—Misses Rodgers and Hyman Stand Out.

The Kingston High School Varsity girls continued their winning streak of four games by defeating the Middletown High girls 22-17 at Middletown Saturday.

For the girls the adding machines were Miss Anne Byrne and Miss Rodgers. Miss Byrne was back in the game with her usual brand of playing and her presence was a great aid to the team. Miss Rodgers was knocked out for a time during the game but she was able to turn and play as hard as ever. The guard positions were very ably filled by the Misses Bruckner and McLaughlin who held their opponents to the 17 points they received. At center Miss Hilda Walker was continually outjumping her opponent and she played steadily throughout.

Classifying Girls' Names.

A writer has just issued a list of girls' names and what they stand for in most people's minds. Lucy, he says, suggests to most people a girl who is tender and clinging. Margaret and Elizabeth carry a cross, but bear it with patience and courage. Olive is successful and hard. Susan and Sally are bewitching. Ethel has no imagination. Madge has a brilliant wit. But for a truly womanly woman, says the writer, choose Anne.

A WATCH

Oh, whether the watch be a costly thing
Or one of the dollar kind,
It matters not if its clicking spring
Is one that a child may wind.
There was just two tasks for a watch
to do:
Keep time through the busy year
And then when the work of the day is through
To tick at a youngster's ear.

Some crave the watch with the costly lv case
And some with a rare design.
But give me the watch I may freely place
In kinder hands than mine.
Yes, give me the watch that a little boy
May climb on my knee to see,
And claim for his ticking the thrill of joy
I knew at my father's knee.

Thick and heavy the silver case
Which closed with a hearty snap.
But never a watch could its place
As I clambered to his lap.
And never a watch shall mean so much.

Though it be the costliest kind,
As that which my father let me touch
And taught me how to wind.

So I hold that a watch has a twofold plan
And a double task to do:
It must mark the minutes which pass for man
And then when the day is through
It must swing on its chain for the girl or boy

Who chooses to climb his knee,
And give to the youngster the golden joy
Of its glorious mystery.
